

Aterian Announces Fixed Cost Reduction Plan and Preliminary Fourth Quarter 2023 Results

February 14, 2024

Expected to Save $4.0 Million Annualized

On Target for Second Half 2024 Adjusted EBITDA Profitability

Fourth Quarter 2023 Net Revenue Range Improved to $31.2 Million to $32.0 Million

Expected Adjusted EBITDA Loss Range Improved to $(6.3) Million to $(5.5) Million

NEW YORK, Feb. 14, 2024 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Aterian, Inc. (Nasdaq: ATER) ("Aterian" or the "Company") today announced a fixed cost reduction as part of the final steps of its previously announced SKU rationalization program. The Company also released certain preliminary fourth quarter 2023 results.

Fixed Cost Reduction Plan

The fixed cost reduction plan is expected to align the Company's costs to what the Company believes will be the appropriate level as it drives towards adjusted EBITDA profitability in the second half of 2024. The Company expects to reduce its workforce by 21 employees and 27 contractors, primarily in the Philippines and Poland, and to recognize annualized savings of approximately $4.0 million. The Company expects to primarily complete the plan by the end of the first quarter 2024 and to recognize and pay restructuring charges, primarily related to severance, of $0.9 million in such quarter.

"Today's announcement reflects a continuation of earlier initiatives to focus, simplify and stabilize our core business and to reposition Aterian for profitability and growth. Arty and I are proud of our team's efforts, and we expect further progress in the quarters to come. To our impacted colleagues, the decisions made were difficult, and Arty and I are deeply grateful for your contributions to Aterian. We wish each of you all the best," said Joe Risico, Aterian's Co-CEO.

As part of this plan, the Company has shifted the architecture of its technology platform, AIMEE, away from a fully internally developed model to an integrated third-party, best-of-breed model. This shift is expected to account for approximately $0.7 million of the expected annualized savings announced today.

"This shift to a best-of-breed integrated third-party approach, is not only expected to lead to cost-savings but is also expected to increase our speed and agility to support our push to an omnichannel strategy and address our continually changing marketplace environment," said Arturo Rodriguez, Aterian's Co-CEO and CFO; and he added "our technology will continue to be lead by our CTO, Roi Zahut, and we continue to believe being tech-enabled is the key to our future. Together, these changes have increased our optimism regarding our path to adjusted EBITDA profitability in the second half of 2024."

Fourth Quarter 2023 Preliminary Net Revenue and Adjusted EBITDA Update

The Company announced an update to its previously stated net revenue and adjusted EBITDA ranges for the fourth quarter ended December 31, 2023. The Company expects net revenue to be in the range of $31.2 million to $32.0 million and adjusted EBITDA loss to be in the range of $(6.3) million to $(5.5) million.

The previously announced ranges of net revenue and adjusted EBITDA loss for the fourth quarter of 2023 were $28 million to $32 million and $(6.5) million and $(7.5) million, respectively. The Company's cash balance as of December 31, 2023, as expected, will be approximately $20.0 million and borrowing under its credit facility is expected to be approximately $11.0 million.

The most directly comparable GAAP financial measure for adjusted EBITDA loss is net loss and we expect to report a net loss for the three months and year ended December 31, 2023, and a net loss for the second half of 2024, due primarily to interest, restructuring costs, and stock-based compensation expenses. We are unable to reconcile the forward-looking statement of adjusted EBITDA in this press release to its nearest GAAP measure because the nearest GAAP financial measure is not accessible on a forward-looking basis and reconciling such information is not available without unreasonable effort.

The net revenue and adjusted EBITDA information in this press release is based on the Company's current expectations and may be adjusted as a result of, among other things, the completion of customary annual audit procedures and financial review.

The Company expects to report its final fourth quarter and fiscal year 2023 results on or about March 12, 2024.
